Lift Truck Operator Training

Exceeding OSHA regulations & ANSI Standards – Accredited by the World Safety Organization
- Testing, workbooks, and hands-on training for your specific equipment type

OSHA requires that operators be certified for type-specific industrial trucks. Don't put the safety of your employees at risk. Enroll your employees in the best programs in the Midwest: Powered Industrial Truck Training for Operators & Trainers. Over 55,000 operators and over 5,200 trainers have completed this exceptional training. Programs are offered at our conveniently located training centers listed below. Classes are also available to be held at your location upon special request (8 minimum operators per "your location" class). Classes are run for all shifts, Monday through Friday, and Saturday as well!
